Inspiration

How could one explain AMClassic's growth?
How did it evolve from the typical family-owned company to a worldwide exporter?

It took us some time to start exporting; it is a long process and you cannot skip steps. When my father, Armando Ferreira da Silva, created the company in 1962 it was just a small business. By that time, he tried to develop some sort of customer relationship management while working in manufacturing and production at the same time. In 1975, when my eldest brother joined the company, its name was changed to AMClassic, meaning Armando's Classic Furniture. 20 years later, when I started running the company, it seemed obvious and necessary that we had to start exporting.

Truth be told, exporting made us raise the quality of our production. The customers became more demanding, enabling us to improve our products and look for sustainable solutions. In 2000, we were already experiencing a strong growth and our team was composed by 53 people. Nowadays, we export over 90% of our production to more than 50 countries. Our success is based on customer satisfaction - exactly what my father had initiated: we assure the customer the quality he wants, when he wants, at a suiting price.

What do clients look for in a furniture company?
What are the features AMClassic guarantees to win over clients?

They definitely look for the quality of our handmade furniture. AMClassic is trying to keep tradition alive, so a great part of the production implies wood carving and other crafting techniques. We use machinery, of course, but there is no substitute for the human intervention in our manufacturing process. Another important feature is the ability of creating tailor-made pieces: we assure our customers that, regardless their style, age or taste, we can produce something unique that matches their needs. There is no such thing as a standardized product for us.

Furthermore, we like to establish a long lasting business relationship with our customers. Quality has a lot to do with organizational features, therefore, we like to meet our clients, define the delivery time of their orders, and provide all the information about prices and conditions before the production starts. You know, once a customer, always a customer.

How do you explain the refined taste for classic furniture?
Have you achieved the expected results?

We cannot deny the influence of French and Italian Classic furniture on our creations, although our designs are completely original and practically exclusive, taking into account the bespoke nature of our products. Each and every piece reflects the desires of a given customer that is our strength. Well, AMClassic has reached a fairly good recognition worldwide, which is a noble result for us. However, as we always aim to be better and soar higher, we hope to reinforce our presence in Europe, especially in Italy, Belgium and Germany, where we already have partners... And we keep our eyes on Asia, which has been a challenging yet rewarding surprise.

Mário Silva, AMClassic CEO

Our craftsmen are artists: every piece of wood is a canvas waiting to be turned into a masterpiece.

Endowed with sensitiveness, attention to detail, passion and experience, they are bound to create a unique and mesmerizing outcome.

We have built a diverse and collaborative team, one that is composed by wood specialists, who care deeply about their work and possess the knowledge to use the best crafting techniques.

With them, the balance between sophistication and tradition was mastered.
